A PLACE IN THE SUN

7 Nights at a magnificent 8-bed, 8-bath,
Private estate in Bucerias, Mexico,
For up to 18 guests

A tropical beach, a private estate with all the comforts and luxuries you could need or want and the staff to deliver them, and a charming village filled with finds and activities—all you need to bring are the people you want to spend a week with enjoying all this.

Relax and reconnect with loved ones or good friends with seven days and seven nights of pure leisure and luxury with a beachside, private estate in the village of Bucerias on Mexico's Pacific Coast as your home base.

This getaway is just eight miles north of Puerto Vallarta—close enough for easy travel, but far enough away from the hustle and bustle to allow you to slip into full-on vacation mode. And with a full staff on hand at the property to meet your every need, you'll be sure to do so.

The eight-bedroom, eight-bath house comfortably accommodates up to 18 guests — perfect for a family reunion or grownups' getaway.

The one-acre property is located on the white sand beach of the Bay of Banderas. Included are the services of a private chef, a property manager/concierge, a waiter, a bartender, and housekeeper.

The serenity of the estate and beach makes for a perfect experience on its own, but the village of Bucerias offers fantastic dining, flea markets laden with treasures, art galleries, and myriad of outdoor activities—including surfing, fishing, parasailing, horseback riding, swimming with dolphins, golf, tennis and more.

So whether you prefer your vacation to be about doing it all or just getting away from it all, you've found the perfect place.
